

LIPO FOAM

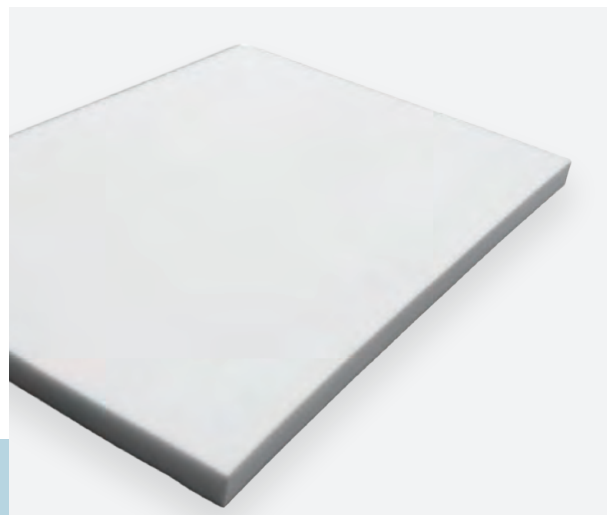

Lipo recovery foam is most often used by patients after liposuction to ensure an even redistribution of fat cells. Lipo foam sheets can also be used to help skin recover from a variety of other procedures including tummy tucks and c-sections.

Lipo Foam has been proven to dramatically reduce bruising and swelling when used beneath compression garments.

- Sold in sheets 11" x 8" x 1/2", 3 sheets per pack
- Can be easily cut to your desired size or shape
- Provides improved comfort and flexibility during your recovery process
- Latex free polyurethane foam

Also available with an adhesive backing to secure the foam to the compression garment.
